Francis Cloyd V. Mag-isa

Frontend Developer

Hi! My name is Francis, a web developer with 5 years of experience within this field. I loved creating layouts, designing website and experiment things that will give a good impact to the user 's experience.

Experience

Fullstack Developer, Web Designer (Intern in Lexmeet Inc)

I have a fun and good experience within this company because I learn a lot of knowledge and skills on how to work within a corporate world. I experience creating web design using Figma and this is where I learn to create a React application for the frontend framework and also fetching APIs for user registration.

Frontend Mentor (Mini Projects)

In this platform, I've learned a lot because after you submit the finish project, you'll be openly criticized by the wonderful community. They give me insights of what are the best tips and tricks on various property that I didn't know is existed. This result of feel more engage and I want to produce more projects that will enhance my current skill as a Frontend Developer.

Full Stack Developer (School Experience)

I have collaborated with my colleagues on a thesis called "Dealease". This is an e-commerce web application that supports our local fishermen. To sell their products so that they fulfill the price they desired to get on selling their goods, which their caught fish. I've learned to create React application together with Laravel as my backend API for the CRUD operation. I've learned to create payment method services using Paymongo for calling and sending payments within this platform.
